

Course code	Course title	Responsible lecturer
FoNC-627	Graduate seminar
Contents and goals of qualification	Course contents: Students prepare a comprehensive seminar paper and deliver oral presentation on topics relevant to forest management and utilization and related policy issues. The seminars shall be based on review of recent literature linked to the selected topics, analysis and discussion of current findings and recommendations. Students will be guided by the respective course coordinator on basic approaches and art of literature search, review and analysis. Goals of qualification: Students will elaboration of a seminar paper demonstrating their art of literature search, review and scientific communication.
Modes of teaching and learning	The course comprises: 1 hrs/wk practical (exercise, and independent studies)
Applicability	Compulsory
Credits and assessment	1 (0+1) Credit hour; Elaboration of seminar paper (50%), presentation and disputation of the seminar paper (40%), peer-review of seminar paper (10%)
Text books	Recent peer-reviewed journal papers published in the Ethiopian context shall be used for seminars	